- Any items in dispute may be photographed separately for independent assessment

(c) Client Unavailable:

If the Client is unavailable for joint inspection after receiving 24 hours notice of the removal date:

- The Service Provider will proceed with photographic/video documentation
- The Service Provider's records become the primary evidence of condition
- The Client has 48 hours after receiving the final photo/video link to dispute the assessment

A.3 Evidentiary Value

(a) The installation and removal photo/video records constitute conclusive evidence of the condition of Rented Items for determining damage liability under this agreement.

(b) In the event of a dispute:

- The installation records show the baseline condition
- The removal records show the final condition
- Any deterioration beyond normal wear and tear (as defined in Section 6.2) is the Client's liability

(c) If photographic evidence is unclear or disputed, either party may request an independent third-party assessment at shared cost.

A.4 Client's Right to Create Own Records

(a) The Client has the right to take their own photographs or videos of Rented Items at any time during the Rental Period.

(b) Client-created records may be used as additional evidence but do not replace the Service Provider's official condition reports.

(c) If the Client wishes to document specific concerns during the Rental Period, they should:

- Take dated, clear photographs showing the issue
- Email them to the Service Provider with a description
- This creates a contemporaneous record that may assist in resolving disputes

APPENDIX B: DAMAGE AND REPLACEMENT SCHEDULE

Purpose

This schedule establishes the method for calculating replacement costs for Rented Items that are damaged beyond repair, lost, or stolen during the Rental Period.

B.1 Item Categories and Typical Replacement Costs

The following categories provide general guidance on replacement costs. Actual costs for specific items will be determined according to Section B.2.

(a) Small Accessories

Items such as vases, cushions, throws, picture frames, small lamps, decorative objects, books, candles, and similar décor items.

Typical replacement range: AUD $50 - $200 per item

(b) Medium Items

Items such as side tables, dining chairs, occasional chairs, coffee tables, TV units, shelving units, mirrors, table lamps, floor lamps, and similar furniture pieces.

Typical replacement range: AUD $300 - $800 per item

(c) Large Furniture

Items such as sofas, beds (with mattresses), dining tables, wardrobes, buffets, large cabinets, outdoor furniture sets, and similar substantial furniture pieces.

Typical replacement range: AUD $1,000 - $3,000 per item

(d) Premium/Designer Items

High-value designer furniture, artwork, or specialty items that exceed the ranges above.

Replacement cost: As determined by valuation method in Section B.2

B.2 Valuation Method

(a) Primary Method - Current Retail Price:

Replacement value will be calculated based on the current retail price of an identical or closely comparable item available for purchase in Australia.

The Service Provider will provide evidence of current retail price by:

- Link to Australian retailer website showing the item and price
- Screenshot of online retailer listing
- Written quotation from furniture supplier

(b) Alternative Method - Original Purchase Cost:

If the identical item is no longer available for retail purchase, the Service Provider may use the original purchase priceas evidence of replacement cost, supported by:

- Copy of original invoice or receipt
- Catalogue or brochure showing the original item and price

(c) Depreciation:

For items that were more than 12 months old at the time of installation (as evidenced by purchase date), the Service Provider may apply reasonable depreciation when calculating replacement cost, but is not required to do so.

If depreciation is applied:

- Items 1-2 years old: up to 20% depreciation
- Items 2-5 years old: up to 40% depreciation
- Items 5+ years old: up to 60% depreciation

(d) Comparable Items:

If neither the identical item nor original purchase records are available, replacement cost will be based on the current retail price of the most closely comparable item of similar:

- Size, style, and quality
- Materials and construction
- Function and aesthetic

B.3 Total Liability Cap

As specified in Section 6.4(d), the Client's total liability for all damage and loss shall not exceed the lesser of:

(a) The full replacement value of all damaged/lost items calculated according to this Appendix; OR

(b) Three times the total contract value specified in the Service Order

Example: If the total staging fee is AUD $3,000, the maximum liability is AUD $9,000, even if calculated replacement costs exceed this amount.

B.4 Partial Damage

If an item is damaged but repairable:

(a) The Client will be charged the reasonable cost of professional repair rather than full replacement, if repair is practical and cost-effective.

(b) If repair costs exceed 70% of replacement cost, the item will be treated as requiring replacement and the full replacement cost will apply.

(c) The Service Provider will obtain quotations for repair work and provide them to the Client before proceeding.

B.5 Multiple Items of Same Type

If multiple identical items are rented (e.g., 6 dining chairs) and only some are damaged:

(a) The Client is only liable for the replacement cost of the damaged items.

(b) If damage to some items in a set makes the remaining items unusable as a coordinated set (e.g., 2 of 6 dining chairs are stained, making the set visually mismatched), the Client may be liable for replacing all items necessary to restore a functional, coordinated set.

(c) The Service Provider will make reasonable efforts to repair or source matching items before claiming full set replacement.

B.6 Furniture List and Specific Values

(a) A detailed list of all Rented Items for each specific project (the "Furniture List") will be attached to the Service Order.

(b) The Furniture List may include:

- Description of each item
- Quantity
- Approximate age/condition at installation
- Approximate replacement value range (optional)

(c) The Furniture List serves as a reference for what was provided, but does not limit the Service Provider's right to claim actual replacement costs according to the valuation method in Section B.2.

B.7 Disputes Regarding Valuation

(a) If the Client disputes the replacement cost claimed by the Service Provider, the Client must:

- Provide written notice of the dispute within 48 hours of receiving the damage claim
- Provide evidence supporting a lower valuation (e.g., links to comparable items at lower prices)

(b) If the parties cannot agree on valuation:

- Either party may request an independent valuation from a qualified furniture assessor or appraiser
- The cost of independent valuation will be shared equally
- The independent valuation will be binding on both parties

(c) The Service Provider retains the right to pursue payment through the dispute resolution process in Section 9.4 if agreement cannot be reached.
